Project Portfolio Manager Aug 2025 – Present · 1 yr 3 mos

Runs digital production and delivery economics for the data platform portfolio of Russia's leading railway carrier: up to 150 people across cross-functional teams, contracts worth up to RUB 700 mln. Turns delivery into a managed system: predictable outcomes and efficiency proven by numbers. Teams: project managers, solution & data architects, UX engineers, BA/SA, data engineers, ML engineers, fe/be developers, DevOps, QA, tech writers.

- Agreeing the target outcome with the client up front and keeping scope under control: deciding which changes are needed and driving them to results
- Building cost and time tracking so the cost and timeline of every project are visible at any moment
- Embedding AI tools and digital agents into the development lifecycle
- Reducing production costs and delivery time via bottleneck identification and process improvements
- Owning project budgets and production costs: keeping cost, output and timelines on plan across the portfolio
- Building teams and growing leaders from within
- Client development: identifying business value, preparing proposals, initiating new projects

Results

- Kept portfolio delivery within budget at 20%+ project margin
- Implemented portfolio-wide change control — reduced scope creep, protected budgets, accelerated delivery
- Launched AI initiative hub for continuous hypothesis collection, prioritization, and testing
